

ProWorks looked to Nuvera for updated technology that would help their staff provide better training and care to adults with disabilities.

ProWorks' Challenge

ProWorks provides services based on the premise that every person challenged by limitations of mind or body possesses an inherent capacity to achieve some level of independence. The staff at ProWorks help with training and care, encouraging people with disabilities to develop their natural abilities.

The ProWorks staff needed a fast, secure, and consistent Internet connection and backup services in order to help train and care for adults with development disabilities, brain injury and mental health concerns.

Why They Chose Nuvera

ProWorks has been a customer of Nuvera for years. They know they can always trust the Nuvera team of experts for reliable products and local customer service. When they were looking for new services, they had a free consultation with a sales consultant about how they can increase their Internet speed and connectivity throughout their entire building. They also wanted their staff to be able to better report daily activities, keeping better track of training programs and development.

How The Product Has Helped and Their Experience With Nuvera

ProWorks was looking to become a more efficient operation, dedicated to helping improve the lives of those with disabilities. The Nuvera team in Litchfield was easy to work with, providing them with products and services that would help make a difference.

The ProWorks staff is now using increased Internet speeds, Managed Wi-Fi and wireless access points to keep a reliable connection no matter where they were in their large facility. They purchased 15 tablets through Nuvera
